ANACOSTIA

Russell Anderson of Good Hope road won the prize given by the Weekly News last Saturday. The lucky number was 200. The prize consisted of some of J. T. Fowler's fine groceries, corner of Chester and W. street.

Miss Mary Shryock and Charles Putman were married at the home of the bride last Saturday morning.

The people of Anacostia are beginning to feel the harmful effect that the five-cent moving picture shows are exerting upon the minds of boys and girls, and especially the opening of the show on Sunday will be bitterly opposed by the churches and others.

Rev. and Mrs. W. G. Davenport have gone to Montreal, Canada, to spend the remainder of this month. Mrs. Davenport, who is president of the Bell Home for Children, has had a strenuous time this summer to look after the seventy children, and the rest from her duties is expected to strengthen her for the winter work at the Episcopal Home for Children in Anacostia.

Mr. Nathan Healey the popular young druggist of Anacostia has at last yielded to Cupid's call and been married. He and his bride are spending their honeymoon among rich relatives in Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Nettie Hodge of Connecticut is spending some time among friends in Anacostia and Congress Heights.

RANDLE HIGHLANDS

A great deal of fun and merry making, besides a day of quietness and rest was the program laid out by R. F. Bradbury at Bradbury Heights Labor Day, and this was carried out to the satisfaction of the people. The carriages and automobiles were busy all day handling the crowds desiring to participate in the day's recreations.

The U. S. Realty had their big time also. It being the occasion of the opening of a new subdivision in North Randle Highlands.

A Mum Party is to be given in the near future at the home of Mrs. Geo. Harover, Maylor road, by the Ladies' Aid Society.

A great number of people have visited Piney Point this summer, all of whom enjoyed the trip and speak with enthusiasm of the place.
